

Manning Family Gallery

(Thank you to the Manning descendants for sharing the pictures!)

c. 1944, Baltimore, MD, Left to Right:

1. John T. Moriarty, son of Margaret Manning & Thomas Moriarty
2. Child of John T. Moriarty
3. Margaret Manning-Moriarty-Luby-Severin, daughter of John T. Manning & Alice O'Hara
4. Alice O'Hara Manning, widow of John T Manning (formerly Mannion)

Alice O'Hara Manning
Widow of John T Manning
(Formerly Mannion)

c. 1950, Back Row, L to R – P.J. William Severin, Margaret Manning-Severin, Margaret Guthlein &
William Guthlein (John T. Moriarty's In-Laws)
Front Row: Grandchildren.

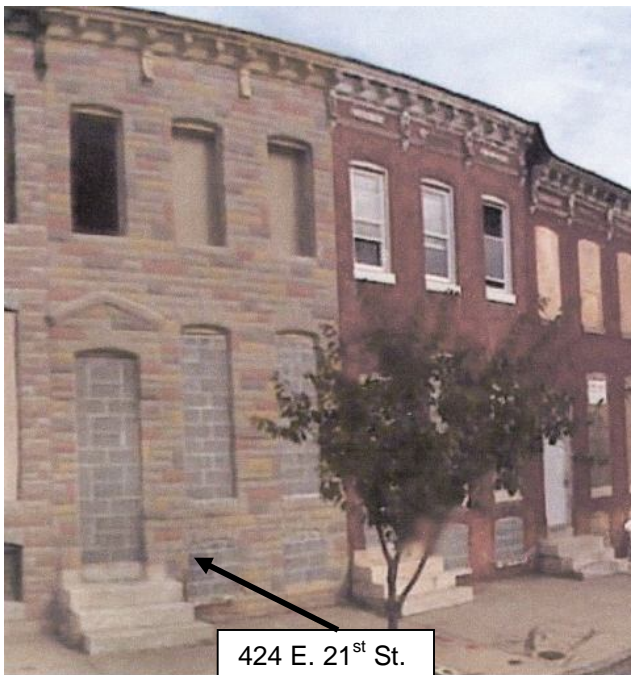

437 Pinckney Pl.

John & Alice Manning settled on Pinckney Place, off the western edge of Greenmount Cemetery, where they raised their children and lived from about 1898, until 1915. They first moved to #426 and later to #437 Pinckney Pl. Today the street is called Pittman Pl.

By the end of 1915, (the year of John Manning's death) John and Alice had moved from Pinckney place to 424 E. Lanvale which was a half block north of Pinckney. The Mannings were having marital troubles at this time and John moved to a boarding house in downtown Baltimore near where he was working as a horseshoer. After John's death, Alice had to depend on her children for support. She lived at several locations with her son, William Manning.

In 1923, Alice's daughter, Margaret Manning Moriarty, became the widow of Daniel J. Luby. They owned a home at 424 E. 21st St., and Alice moved there with Margaret for several years. William Manning, Margaret's brother, also lived at this address.

Margaret Manning Moriarty Luby married a third time to P. J. William Severin. They settled in the Ednor Gardens area of Baltimore at 972 North Hill Rd. As of 1942, Alice Manning was living at this address with the Severins.

Sometime after 1942, Alice Manning returned to the St. Ann's Parish neighborhood and remained there until her death in 1959. Alice's last address was 2452 Greenmount Avenue. Alice's son, William Manning, was also living on Greenmount Avenue in the 2600 block.

St. Ann's Church, 22nd St. & Greenmount Ave.